

“New Treatments for Constipation, Irritable Bowel Syndrome and Gastroparesis: From Prucalopride and Linaclotide to Electrical Stimulation of the Gut”

A one day meeting held at
Tivoli Congress Center, Copenhagen - Denmark
November 22nd 2013 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m.
Available within 15 minutes from Copenhagen Airport by train

Treatment of gastrointestinal symptoms on the basis of dysmotility and IBS has evolved rapidly through the last decade. New drugs have been approved and electrical stimulation or pacing has been introduced. This year SAGIM has gathered a group of experts to guide us through new treatments for motility disorders for each segment of the gut. The scientific meeting “New Treatments for Constipation, Irritable Bowel Syndrome and Gastroparesis: From Prucalopride and Linaclotide to Electrical Stimulation of the Gut” will have the following agenda:

- Lectures held by international experts on new treatments for motility disorders
- Presentation of cases from the clinic
- Panel discussions

Through panel discussions every participant is encouraged to participate with their own experience.

The target groups are:

- Young doctors in gastroenterology and surgery
- Specialists in gastroenterology and surgery
- Nurses and others with an interest in motility disorders

The meeting is held on Tivoli Congress Center in central Copenhagen November 22nd 2013, 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m.

We hope to see you,

Steering board of SAGIM
