

Minutes from SAGIM Tivoli Hotel Copenhagen, 2018

A lively 31th Anniversary Meeting of Scandinavian Association of Neurogastroenterology and Motility (SAGIM) was held at Tivoli Hotel the 23th November. More than 40 participants and business partners attended the meeting. We hosted this inspirational meeting with financial help from the sponsors. Meq Nordic, Synmed, Kebomed and Grünenthal.

This year's hot topics in upper and lower neurogastroenterology and motility were presented by speakers from all over the world; Peter Paine from London gave us an overview in treating functional pain, Magnus Simrén (Gothenburg) took us through gastroparesis and a case story. Furthermore, new subtle devices for treating and investigating the gastrointestinal tract were presented by Hans Gregersen (Hong Kong) and Ram Dickman (Petach Tikva). Also other exciting topics as fMR and IBS, reflux and management of enteric neuropathy (Greger Lindberg, Stockholm and Niels Qvist, Odense) were presented, and this also included a lot of other Scandinavian speakers.

A PhD network meeting before the meeting was introduced as a new initiative. Seven PhD students participated and the network day was successful. Next year the PhD network meeting will also be held the day before the SAGIM meeting scheduled November 22th, 2019.

Like the tradition prescribes this meeting was a great time for intellectual interactions, network, new investigator collaborations and last but not least - for friendship.

Mette Winther Andersen

Minutes from SAGIM Tivoli Copenhagen, 2018

Niels Qvist, Odense

Minutes from SAGIM Tivoli Copenhagen, 2018

Best abstract presentation

Can a supplement with cod peptides improve health?

Hanna Fjeldheim Dale

Minutes from SAGIM Tivoli Copenhagen, 2018

Ph.D network